

Experts in herbal pet care

Nothing beats having a healthy, happy dog. We know that because we love dogs as much as you do. For almost 70 years we've been breeding, working and showing dogs, and applying our knowledge of herbal medicine to their health and nutritional needs. We're now in our third generation at Dorwest, where our insights have made us the UK's leading provider of canine and feline herbal treatments – and the only manufacturer of herbal medicines authorised by the Veterinary Medicines Directorate.

In more than 20 countries around the world we're helping dog and cat owners keep their pets healthy and content. They come to us for herbal treatments that work in harmony with their dogs – the young and the old...glossy show dogs and lovable crossbreeds...active, outdoors types and contented, fireside stay-at-homes.

Dog lovers with pharmaceutical standards

A commitment to medicinal rigour underpins everything we do. We prepare our treatments to pharmaceutical standards using active ingredients taken from the whole plant. No second-stage extracts for us: ours come directly from the leaves, stems, roots and first pressings of oil – and only from herbs that meet our own stringent quality standards. The result is a comprehensive range of herbal veterinary medicines, herbal dietary supplements and homoeopathic remedies that help keep your dog or cat's life in balance.

Away from the lab and the white coats, we're typical dog lovers – keen to chat with fellow dog owners and delighted to offer advice on anything from supplements for an active lifestyle to treatments for travel sickness, phobias or ageing joints. We love being part of that great dog-owning community, and feel privileged to be able to share our expertise with fellow dog enthusiasts.

Should you require further information on other leaflets in our range or require advice either:

Ask at your local stockist to speak to the Dorwest trained member of staff.

Call Dorwest direct on 01308 897272 to speak to an expert advisor (9am – 4pm Monday to Friday)

Dorwest Herbs Ltd,
Dorchester, Dorset DT1 3AR, UK

01308 897272
f www.dorwest.com t

Experts in herbal pet care

Digestive health

Your guide to managing your pet's digestion

Digestive problems

Digestive issues can vary from the occasional windy or gurgly tummy to diarrhoea, pancreatic insufficiency or something more serious which will require veterinary attention. The digestive system can be maintained in good health by careful dietary considerations and the use of our Digestive Tablets to support the whole digestive system and keep it in good health. Our Tree Barks Powder is specifically used to reduce acute intestinal absorptive disorders, compensate for maldigestion and chronic pancreatic insufficiency as well as during periods of, and recovery from, acute diarrhoea. Both products can be used on their own or alongside any medication prescribed by your vet. With any digestive issue remember to consider these basic points:

- Consult your vet if you have any concerns over your pet's health and for on-going monitoring
- Review the diet and try to keep your pet's diet as natural as possible with minimal additives
- Don't forget! Titbits still count, so keep an eye on these as well.

Remember we are not vets and do not diagnose. You should always consult a vet if you are concerned about your pet's health.

“BACK TO NORMAL IN A FEW HOURS”

I use Tree Barks Powder for upset tummies, all back to normal in a few hours.

Mrs Pebworth, Chesterfield

“A DOG THAT IS SO MUCH HAPPIER AND SO ARE WE”

We used the Digestive Supplement Tablets for the first time recently and cannot recommend it highly enough. After years of dietary changes and other meds etc. we have found the one that works. We have a dog that is so much happier and so are we, having gone from the worst case of breaking smelly wind to nothing. With thanks Mr Spud.

Mrs Hunter, Livingston

Follow the chart below to find the most suitable Dorwest product to maintain your pet's digestive health

Intestinal disorders

Minor digestive disorders in the colon or stomach are often when the digestive system has become inflamed and irritated, and these can be difficult to control and manage long term. If veterinary treatment is not required, these can usually be helped by soothing the digestive tract.

Poor digestion and malabsorption

When food passes through the system too quickly, sufficient nutrients cannot be absorbed. Slowing down the passage of food and soothing the digestive tract is beneficial to gain the most from their food.

Diarrhoea

If this persists for more than a few days you should seek veterinary advice but for temporary diarrhoea, often caused by eating something unsuitable, it is possible to control and firm the motions both during the acute stage and the recovery period afterwards.

Tree Barks Powder

The two powdered tree barks in this herbal nutritional supplement have a soothing effect on the digestive tract, slowing the passage of food and increasing absorption of nutrients, firming stools and easing discomfort.

The gentle action and ease of digestion of Tree Barks Powder means it is suitable for use in weaning, during recovery from illness and alongside medication in animals with conditions such as exocrine pancreatic insufficiency. It's also a good short term choice in animals experiencing bouts of diarrhoea and in the recovery period afterwards, providing relief from intestinal discomfort and for longer term recurrent problems.

Windy and gurgly tummies

Those with noisy, grumbly tummies, particularly after eating, will benefit from herbal help to settle and calm the digestion and make them more comfortable.

Flatulence

Most pet owners will have experienced the effects of their pets flatulence or wind and although diet is usually a contributory factor, your pet may need a little help to relieve this problem and the associated side effects!

Digestive Tablets

This supplement contains calming herbs ginger and valerian, rhubarb and peppermint to aid digestion and slippery elm to soothe and comfort.

Can be given long term to susceptible pets or short term to settle the digestion before a specific event or car journey.

