THE PRESCRIBER.

Abdomen, DISTENDED.—In fat, scrofulous children, Calc. c. 6, 6h. In thin, rickety children, Silic. 6, 6h. When due to worms, Cina 3, 6h. If due to flatulence with constipation, Lyc. 6, 6h. If from flatulence, with great pain, the bowels being open or loose, Dioscor. 3, 6h. Hysterical distension, Ign. 3, 2h. As if a living animal were there, Thuja. 3, 2h. DROPSICAL. See Dropsy.

Abortion. See Miscarriage.

Abscess, or Suppuration.

THREATENING.—Redness, pain and throbbing, without much swelling, Bell. 1, 1h. Much swelling with or without redness, burning, throbbing, stinging pain, Apis 3x, 1h. After Bell. or Apis, if either of these is insufficient to check the inflammatory action, Merc. sol. 6, 2h. Abscess near the rectum, Silic. 6, 4h.

FORMED.—When matter has actually formed, to assist the process and bring it to a favorable termination, Hepar s. 6, 3h. Locally, fomentations with hot Calendula lotion (Calend. ϕ a teaspoonful to two tablespoonfuls of hot water) two or three times a day.

DISCHARGING—When an abscess has been opened, or has opened spontaneously, Silic. 6, 4h.; locally, a lotion of Calendula ϕ (one teaspoonful to two tablespoonfuls of water), to be kept applied, and changed

- DR. J. CROMPTON BURNETT: “The fact is, we need any and every way of finding the right remedy, the simple simile, the simple symptomatic similimum —the pathological similimum, and I maintain that we are still within the lines of Homoeopathy that is an expansive, progressive science”.

James Compton
Burnett

- J H CLARKE : “ Certain diseases come to have certain remedies assigned to them and all patients who are found to be suffering from any given disease must be dosed with one of the remedies credited to it”.

- CLINICAL REPERTORY is an index of remedies applicable to various more or less fixed symptoms / syndromes to which nosological labels can be given

- these repertories can be used for cases where clinical conditions mask the characteristics of the patient.

In such cases the physician finds the prominent common symptoms with a few modalities and concomitants. These cases need the help of clinical repertories for selecting the simillimum.

- General clinical repertory (Boericke's clinical repertory, Clarke's repertory)
- Disease oriented clinical repertory (bells diarrhoea, repertory of leucorrhoea)
- Organ based clinical repertory (Minton's uterine therapeutics, Berridge eye repertory)

- CLINICAL REPERTORY

- GENERAL

- a. Cases lacking in mental generals and physical generals but rich in common symptoms.
- b. Cases with clinical diagnosis.
- c. Short cases with very a few symptoms.

- Limitation :

Clinical repertories are based on NOSOLOGICAL TERMS AND CLINICAL SYMPTOMS, which are the result of clinical observations hence their use is limited to particular type of cases. They are mainly used for reference work.

PREFACE

- Give more attention to the general preface and introductory notes to each separate division.
 - PRINCE OF REPERTORY – BOENNINGHAUSEN
- More useful for the study of Materia Medica no less than an instrument in finding out indicated remedies.

- Homoeopathic practice demands knowledge of Materia Medica and knowledge how to use it.
- This demands unlimited patience and application in the study of drug comparisons.
- This repertory enables the practitioner to compare any remedy with any similar remedy in five different points, all of great importance in practice.
 - As in Dictionary of Practical MM

• PART IV – “CLINICAL RELATIONSHIPS

- Tabular form
 - Complementary
 - Remedies follow well; Followed by
 - Compatible
 - Generic term
 - First 3 columns
 - Incompatible; Antidote; Antidoted by
- Duration of action
- Spaces provided – for further addition

NOTE.

THIS section of the Repertory gives in tabular form the chief clinical relations of all remedies of the Materia Medica so far as they have been noted. They are included under the following headings: "Complementary Remedies," "Remedy Follows Well," "Remedy is Followed Well by," "Compatible Remedies," "Incompatible Remedies," "Remedy Antidotes," "Remedy is Antidoted by." There is also added the duration of action of remedies so far as these have been noted.

The term "compatible" is a generic term, and includes all the remedies of the first three columns—i.e., the "complementary" remedies, those which the remedy "follows well," and those which it is "followed well by"—but the column "Compatible Remedies" has been included because some remedies have been noted as compatible with others, without further qualification.

Many remedies have not yet had their clinical relationships noted. But I have not excluded them on this account; and spaces are thus provided for the insertion of their related remedies when found later on in practice.

- Compatible – some remedies have been noted as compatible with others without further qualification
- Complimentary – Certain food materials which enhance the action are given
 - Eg: Artimesia when given in wine is more effecting than in water.
- Source of this section
 - Dr. Gibson Miller in the Homoeopathic World in 1902

PART V – REPERTORY OF NATURAL RELATIONSHIPS

- Homoeopathic Materia Medica consists of anything and everything in the universe
- Man himself epitomizes the Universe and nothing in the universe is unrelated to him
- Thus he developed some of the applications of the substances and the methods by which they are to be prepared and applied
- This section provides knowledge at a glance the place in Nature of any remedy in question – mineral, animal, vegetables etc.

- Alphabetical list of all the natural order
 - Under each section - alphabetical list of all the remedies included in the Materia Medica.
- List of natural or evolutionary order
 - A number is given for each order and same number is in alphabetical order
 - This knowledge is important because there is a therapeutic likeness and between the members of same group

- This section of the repertory is divided into 5 sections.

1. Metals or elements – 56 drugs

2. Vegetable kingdom – 64 drugs

3. Animal kingdom (Pascoe's zoological classification)

4. Sarcodes – FLESH REMEDIES – 37 drugs

5. Nosodes – 22 drugs

- Total – 737 drugs

SCOPE

- Study MM
- Quick reference book at bed side
- Finding remedy in cases with clinical diagnosis, lack of generals & characteristics, cases with few symptoms

- contain some rubrics, which are not found in other general repertories

- Mistrustful when sick – Lyc

- Negroes – sul

- Critical period of life & pubescence – sep

- Pepper addiction to – nux v

- to find the most appropriate palliative medicine in incurable cases
- Help to choose the next best remedy using clinical relationship chapter
- Clinical hints under certain remedies are very useful

DE-MERITS

- Number of medicines given under each rubric is very few, even in general rubric as compared to other repertories
- There is no grading of remedies, so we cannot find most important remedy for each condition
- Most of the remedies used are rare and the curative effects of which are to be proved

- Many medicines given in sub-rubrics are not included in general rubric.
 - Eg : Asthma – hysterical – Nux mosch.
- This repertory can only be used for quick reference and not for good systematic repertorization.

- Some important drugs missing
 - Blood poisoning – Ech, Ars, Lach, Pyr
 - Hepatitis – Act.s, Nat.s
 - Climacteric – Lach
- Misplaced rubrics
- Rubric repetition
 - Children cross, cross children
