Re: Refusal of necessary NHS Treatment in breach of the NHS Constitution & Human Rights (UNESCO Bioethics & Human Rights 2005 Article 14.2(a))

I am writing to inform you that I have been informed that all and necessary medical treatment as per my rights has been denied me by my local hospital. I have recently contacted my Local Health Board and Local Government Ombudsman to issue my formal complaint regarding the refusal of necessary NHS Treatment in breach of my rights. The replies I received are attached for your information.

In accordance with the National Health Service Constitution which governs the behaviour of NHS boards and organisations, and in accordance with my Human Rights (UNESCO Bioethics & Human Rights 2005 Article 14.2(a)) you are obliged under UK & EU Laws to offer each patient:

UNESCO Bioethics & Human Rights 2005 – Article 14.2 (a)
Social Responsibility & Healthcare

14.2(a) Taking into account that the enjoyment of the highest attainable standard of health is one of the fundamental rights of every human being/person without distinction of race, religion, political belief, economic or social condition, progress in science & technology should advance;

a) Access to quality health care and essential medicines especially for the health of women and children because health is essential to life itself & must be considered to be a social and human good.

Applicable to each person registered under the NHS the following seven governing principles of the NHS Constitution:

- 1) The NHS provides a comprehensive service, available to all & respects patients human rights = This has been denied me*
- 2) Access to NHS services based on clinical need = This has been denied me*
- 3) The NHS aspires to the highest standards of excellence & professionalism = All care has been denied me*
- 4) The patient will be at the heart of everything the NHS does = All management of my treatment has been denied to me and all treatment refused to maintain my health.*
- 5) The NHS works across organisational boundaries = All necessary medical treatment has been denied to me by all organisations to the detriment of my health & well-being*

- 6) The NHS is committed to providing best value for taxpayers money = I have paid into the NHS system and now being refused the necessary medical treatment as promised by this constitution and in accordance with my human rights
- 7) The NHS is accountable to the public, communities & patients it serves = The NHS serves the public, I am a member of the public who requires medical treatment in order to maintain my health and life expectancy = This is being denied me.

I would request this matter regarding the refusal to offer me medical treatment under the NHS is breaking not only the NHS Constitution but also my human rights.

I am making a third stage formal complaint to yourselves in the hope you can ensure my necessary medical treatment is reinstated immediately, this complaint is:

Stage 3 which involves contacting the Parliamentary Health & Services Ombudsman and should you not offer me the rights to medical treatment in accordance with my human rights, I will be forced to progress this complaint to Stage 4 - The final stage will incorporate prosecution in a court of law for removing my Human rights to medical treatment in accordance with UK/EU Laws.

This is an urgent matter and requires urgent attention.

Yours faithfully
