About Debbie Tascone

Debbie was the first registered nurse and first woman to be appointed as a hospital executive director in the health system's history when she was named head of Syosset Hospital in 1997. The following year, she became executive director of Plainview Hospital as well, and she was subsequently appointed as regional executive director. We pay tribute to Debbie and her lasting contributions to Northwell Health. After Debbie's retirement, the Debbie Tascone Nursing Scholarship Program was established to honor her lifelong devotion to nursing and carry forward her legacy of service excellence.
